

Soon many pleasure boats in Europe will reach end of their useful life

Most of the old craft now is left to rot away at their berth, but there are alternatives to abandoning or sinking an end-of-life boat. Some of them might even become a job for you or bring you profit.

Could this be a new business opportunity for you?

If you are already carrying out some boat dismantling activities but need more training on how to do it even better or if you are interested in starting a business related to old craft, the FREE online “training module” (in English, French, Italian, Spanish and Turkish) for dismantlers might be your answer. It offers the first-hand information on dismantling, its administrative and financial aspects or environmental and technical issues (e.g. personal protective equipment use).

More on www.boatdigest.eu

Give more visibility to your company

Boat owners often don't know where to find dismantling companies and the latter, how to advertise their services. Boat DIGEST map makes it easier by providing locations of these facilities in Europe. You can become a part of dismantling network FREE of charge by getting in touch with contact@boatdigest.eu

https://twitter.com/Boat_Digest

www.boatdigest.eu

